World Class Research Seminar Letter of Completion

To whom it may concern,

This letter confirms that Xinru HOU has successfully completed the online research workshop "Education, Public Policy in Sociology" designed and taught by professor Parfait M. Eloundou-Enyegue from Cornell University in August 2024.

This is a 140 teaching hours online workshop. This course addressed contemporary debates in public policy and the contributions of various social sciences (including not just economics but sociology and demography as well) to this debate. It aimed to further examine implications for policies about national and global education.

The program is dedicated to providing students with high-quality overseas educational resources. This experience not only helps to enrich students' research experience and develop their thesis-writing skills, but also provides students with an in-depth understanding of professional cross-cultural communication and expands their competence in these fields.

Throughout the workshop, Xinru HOU demonstrated good participation in class discussions and a solid understanding of the topics covered. They also demonstrated good teamwork skills and were able to help team members think further together during discussions.

It is hoped that in future studies, research and career, Xinru HOU can continue to maintain the spirit and motivation shown in this program, and make further progress.
